Political Theory

The Department of Political Science (www.politicalscience.uwo.ca), Faculty of Social Science at Western University invites applications for a probationary tenure-track position in the field of Political Theory with a starting date of July 1, 2019 (or as negotiated). We expect to hire at the rank of Assistant Professor, but applications from exceptional, experienced candidates at higher academic ranks will be considered.

We seek a candidate with substantive research interests in Global Justice or Democratic Engagement who is building an international research profile that will contribute to our existing strengths in these areas. The successful candidate must have completed their PhD in Political Science or a related field.

The successful candidate must demonstrate a commitment to excellence in research, teaching, and service. The candidate should be capable of supervising graduate student research, teaching graduate and undergraduate students, and securing external research grants. All faculty members are expected to participate in administrative committees at the level of the department, faculty, and/or university, including service external to the university.

Western University is a top-ranked research-intensive university. Situated in the Faculty of Social Science, the Department of Political Science offers full programs for undergraduate, MA, MPA, and PhD students. The Faculty of Social Science at Western is experiencing a period of significant faculty renewal having made over 35 hires over the last few years, with approximately 20 more hires anticipated. Since 1878, the Western experience has combined academic excellence with life-long opportunities for intellectual, social, and cultural growth in order to serve our communities. Western University delivers an academic experience second to none.
